

DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

Included in the news of Sunday morning was the story of how a perfectly good horse broke into the store of Arthur Stebbins, in the Keystone block, during the wee sma' hours of the Sabbath day.

The horse was a burglar, and probably won't have to face a charge of that nature, but he was in the store, just the same. He broke out a plate glass window to get there, and he smashed a showcase after he got inside.

In way of explanation, Chief John McFarland said Sunday that the horse was being driven about 2:30 Sunday morning by Martin Vossler, who lives on a farm on the Reynolds street route to South Killingly. The horse was hitched to a sleigh, the runners of which caught in the car tracks at the corner of Water and Cottage streets, upset and tossed Mr. Vossler and the other occupants out in the snow. The horse bolted and crashed headfirst through the window of the Stebbins store.

Patrolman Martin Wolf notified Chief McFarland that the window had been broken out and the chief came down and investigated. What he learned led him to hire an automobile with which he trailed, following blood spots in the snow, to the Vossler place. Mr. Vossler told of what occurred. The horse was quite badly cut by glass but was taken out of the store the way he went in—through the window.

Connecticut Mills added another victory to its string Saturday evening when the All-Collegians of Providence were defeated in the town hall by the score of 68 to 26. As the score indicates, the local team had the visitors outclassed every minute of play. The lineup: Connecticut Mills—Reddy, H. Elliott, J. Knowles, A. Walker, R. Marland, Caffery, Jr., All-Collegians—Samuels, J. Taylor, J. Dougherty, C. Berry, J. Reeves, L. Field, goals: Reddy, 6; Elliott, 3; Knowles, 2; Walker, 1; Caffery, 2; Samuels, 3; Dougherty, 4; Berry, 1; Reeves, 1; Field, goals: Knowles, 4; Reeves, 1; Field, 1; Elliott, 1; Caffery, 1; Samuels, 1; Dougherty, 1; Berry, 1; Reeves, 1; Field, 1.

Rev. M. J. Gaud's report as pastor of St. James' parish shows the past year has been an unusually prosperous one and that the parish is in the best financial condition in its history.

The cold wave hung on through Sunday.

PUTNAM

This week may bring the campaign of the Putnam Building and Loan association to their goal—which is to sell at least 1,000 shares of the ninth series issued by the organization.

At noon on Saturday 1 shares had been sold and there were prospects of getting other liberal subscribers with the coming of the present week.

Hugh Wilton, formerly at the state trade school here as an instructor, spent the week end with friends in Putnam. Mr. Wilton has been exceedingly successful since he left Putnam.

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary S. Northrup, 89, were held at the home of her grandson, Byron Place, in Foster Sunday, Rev. Harry St. John, filmer officiating. Burial was in the Pine cemetery. A. F. Wood was in charge of the funeral arrangements.

It was announced at Hartford that the plans of the state highway department for its 1920 construction of highways include the building of a new highway through Hampton, Brooklyn and Killingly to the Rhode Island line.

The improvement that people in the towns mentioned have urged is a new road to the south, and the highway department is now making a study of the matter.

Staten W. Condit, formerly of Putnam, and assistant treasurer of the Putnam Building and Loan association, died Sunday at his home in Putnam.

Thomas C. Hughes, 54, died suddenly at his home in Waterbury Sunday. Mr. Hughes was sitting on the couch and was about to fill his pipe when he fell over dead. He was born in Hampton, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hughes, of Attawapung, and a sister, Mary Hughes, of the same village.
